Curriculum and Instruction

Rex Morrow
Chair, Department of Teacher Education

The professional education unit is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE).

The curriculum and instruction master's program builds upon the foundation laid at the undergraduate level and continues the emphasis on pre-kindergarten through twelfth-grade teachers as educational leaders and informed decision makers. Teachers who wish to assume leadership roles within their school systems need to remain current, increase their skill levels, add to their knowledge bases, and increase their repertoire. As effective leaders who take responsibility for their own continuing education, they also need to participate in the creation of their own professional development plans.

The curriculum and instruction master's program is designed to provide for these needs. While making allowances for individual tailoring, the program includes a common core of courses intended to increase graduate students' skill levels and knowledge base in: technology applications (ETE 551), research applications (ELH 604), legal and social issues (ELH 605), curriculum theory (ETE 651), cultural diversity and schooling (ETE 553), instructional theory (ETE 655), instructional design (ETE 653*), and assessment strategies (ETE 552, ETE 654, ETE 643). In addition, the program offers practica, original research, and creative contributions options. Working with a faculty advisor, graduate students plan a program of study which addresses their needs, interests, and professional development goals. These plans may include assessment, early childhood education, educational technology, gifted education, literacy and reading, and science education.

The goal of the curriculum and instruction master's program is to prepare pre-kindergarten through twelfth-grade teachers to accept greater responsibility in their roles as educational leaders, advocates, and life-long learners by increasing their skill levels, adding to their knowledge bases, and informing their attitudes.

The objectives of the curriculum and instruction master's program are to:

1. Integrate theory with reflective practice.
2. Draw connections between the knowledge base and the professional skills necessary for the success of effective leaders, advocates, and life-long learners.
3. Assist teachers in remaining current with regard to educational issues, individualized instruction, and the elements of best practice.
4. Engage teachers in collaborative learning with colleagues who offer similar, as well as diverse, backgrounds, experiences, and views.
5. Individualize programs of study to meet the particular needs of graduate students.
6. Facilitate the development of teachers as life-long learners, who are capable of informing their instructional practices through appropriate application of research results.

College/Department Admissions Requirements

An applicant must earn a Miller Analogies raw score of 37 (50th percentile) or GRE scores of 480 in Verbal and Quantitative and 3.5 in Analytical Writing to be accepted unconditionally.

For conditional admission, a candidate must earn a minimal MAT score of 27 (25th percentile) or GRE scores of 400 in Verbal and Quantitative and 2.5 to 3.4 in Analytical Writing. The MAT may be retaken one time.

In addition to the MAT requirements, for unconditional admission the candidate must have a bachelor's degree overall grade point average of 2.5 and a 2.75 grade point average in the major field of concentration.

For conditional admission into a graduate program, the candidate must have a bachelor's degree overall grade point average of 2.25 and 2.4 grade point average in the major field of concentration. The conditional student must maintain a 3.0 grade point average during the first 9 to 18 semester hours of graduate work in order to gain unconditional status.

All applicants must complete the prescribed application forms of the College of Education and Health Sciences and Graduate School.

Two letters of reference must be obtained by the applicant from educational field employers or college/university professors who can recommend the applicant as having strong potential for success in graduate studies and in potential continued service to the education profession.

Graduation Requirements

Graduation requirements for the thesis and non-thesis options have in common the following components: an eighteen-hour core which includes ELH 604 and ELH 605 (three hours each), a three-hour educational technology course (ETE 551) and nine hours of Curriculum and Instruction (ETE 553, ETE 651 and ETE 653). The student must also select an area of concentration consisting of nine semester hours from areas in assessment, early childhood education, educational technology, gifted education, literacy and reading, and science education.
